We had many reasons to celebrate with our students

- Freshman students were welcomed to the Department with a welcome cocktail party. The event was held on April 17th on the fourth floor of Washburn Hall where students had the opportunity to meet the faculty. Freshman students met faculty members in this informal environment and had the chance to get information on courses and the overall program. Students as well as faculty members enjoyed Magnum ice cream bars and Lipton Tea at the event sponsored by Unilever.
- On June 27, 2013, the Department of Management welcomed close to 100 new graduates from all programs to a graduation cocktail reception. To celebrate their achievements, students and faculty gathered to toast the new graduates; to reunite with friends and colleagues; and enjoy music, delicious food, and great conversation. The event was held at Kennedy Lodge and was sponsored by Henkel and the Hay Group. One of our Ph.D. students, Ahter Sönmez, entertained us with his wonderful music.

We developed our students' interview techniques through a series of workshops

- On Saturday, May 11th, we hosted Ms. Kathryn Wainwright, CEO of The Talent Consultancy, on the North Campus for a full-day workshop on how top talent can be identified and recruited, and how candidates can demonstrate their "A Player" game during interviews and upon recruitment. Attendance was high with over 70 participants. Each participant was awarded with a certificate at the end of the workshop.
- Mock interviews were organized to prepare our students for real life interview situations. The first mock interviews were held in May 2013, with more to be conducted at least once a year from now on. Each interview was administered by two interviewers with prior industry experience as recruiters in the fields to which the students were applying. The duration of each interview was 20-25 minutes followed by a 10 minute feedback session. Students found this process very helpful and were enthusiastic about having these sessions every year. In the future we plan to collaborate with a professional recruitment partner and to recruit our alumni as interviewers in order to maximize the benefit for our students.
